Earnings-related pension providers

Application
Partial Early Old-Age Pension

You can apply for partial early old-age pension from an earnings-related pension provider only.

Submit your application to your own pension provider.

Go to your pension provider's website or www.tyoelake.fi for more information.

Read the instruction "Information for pension applicants" (ETK/Kela 7007oe). The instructions include information on how to apply for a pension and on how your personal data is handled in connection with issuing a pension decision.

When you apply for a partial early old-age pension, you can use this same form to apply for an old-age pension from an EU or EEA country, Switzerland or a country with which Finland has a social security agreement.

You may receive the old-age pension from the Social Insurance Institution of Finland (Kela) if you have turned 65 years and the early old-age pension if you have turned 64 years. For more information, visit www.kela.fi. You can apply for a national old-age pension from Kela if your other pensions or compensations amount to less than the income limit of the national pension.
